EBBA2 data access & co-authorship policies

*Presented & discussed at two EBBA2 workshops (2013 Barcelona, 2015 Mikulov).
Approved by EBCC Board & Atlas Steering Committee.*

Principles:

- raw national data are owned by their providers
- European aggregated data are owned by EBCC on behalf of its partners across Europe
- providers of national data should be invited to take part in scientific analyses/publications
- the process of data provision approvals should be as fast and flexible as possible
- supranational outputs should be made available to users as much as possible

EBBA2 data access & co-authorship policies

1. Open access:

EBBA2 data access & co-authorship policies

1. Open access:

Distribution map of species breeding occurrence at 50x50 km square scale

2. Restricted access, EBCC Board decides (national data available to national data providers automatically for free):

2. Restricted access, EBCC Board decides (national data available to national data providers automatically for free):

- Breeding evidence (possible, probable and confirmed)
- Abundance map of species at 50x50 km square scale
- Comparison with EBBA1 at 50x50 km scale, i.e. distribution change
- Modelled probability of occurrence of selected species at 10x10 km scale

3. Restricted access, national data providers decide

- Raw data used to produce the modelled distribution maps at 10x10 km scale.

EBBA2 data access & co-authorship policies

- National data providers = potential contributors to scientific papers/reports
- Active involvement in the process of writing the scientific paper is needed to justify co-authorship
- Co-authors will be informed of the submission and revision process by the leading author
- rules do not apply to open access data used by external parties
- where national data providers decide, the co-authorship has to be organised with them

EBBA2 acknowledgements of contributors

Who:

- Contributors at the European level

EBBA2 acknowledgements of contributors

Who:

- Contributors at the European level (e.g. national coordinators & data providers)
- ~~Authors of the European atlas~~
- ~~Artists providing their paintings for the Atlas~~

EBBA2 acknowledgements of contributors

Contributors at national level (e.g. fieldworkers) to be acknowledged at national level
